the decision making process, of the roles of the actors involved and of the criteria used, both at a formal and at an informal level. We managed to produce a list of the most relevant topics/research questions around which we

As such, mhis book will draw upon and make a conmribumion mo mhe already growing body of work examining the namure of offender supervision in Europe.

Outputs

¶